

MASTER'S NURSING PROGRAMS

PROGRAM OVERVIEW

All master's nursing programs in the Wegmans School of Nursing provide academic and clinical excellence that challenges the professional nurse to acquire the theoretic and clinical scholarship needed to assume expanded nursing roles in interdisciplinary health care settings upon graduation.

As a graduate student in the Wegmans School of Nursing, you can earn a master's degree in any of the following programs:

- Adult Gerontology Acute Care Nurse Practitioner (AGACNP)
- Adult Gerontology Primary Care Nurse Practitioner (AGPCNP)
- Adult Gerontology Clinical Nurse Specialist (AGCNS)
- Primary Care Family Nurse Practitioner (PCFNP)
- Psychiatric Mental Health Nurse Practitioner (PMHNP)

All programs also offer a post-master's certificate and a Doctor of Nursing Practice degree option.

LIFE AFTER FISHER

As a graduate of the Wegmans School of Nursing, you will gain more than an advanced practice degree; you will be known as a Fisher nurse.

Our graduates work in a variety of health care settings on a local, regional, and national level. Their training has given them the knowledge and skills to lead change, promote health, and improve access to care.
